The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending last Saturday was copies, the largest circulation of any daily paper in Vermont outside of Burlington.

Lawrence is the place for Gov. Foss to make or break himself.

Alas, Alaska! "Fifty per cent. of the population in grip of tuberculosis."

President Taft's chances depend a great deal on the impression he makes in his home state of Ohio during the present visit.

It is a fine thing to have a fresh-air room in every school building in Boston, but how about having proper ventilation in every room in the buildings? The installing of some system to effect the latter would make a fresh-air room unnecessary.

January has lived up to traditions in furnishing us an old-fashioned winter; and now we are looking ahead to the treatment February is about to accord us. If February does the right thing, it will continue the winter weather and get it over with before next June.

The Fair Haven Era thinks there is a fair chance of Thomas H. Browne of Rutland coming into his own soon—meaning the collectorship of the port of Burlington after Mr. Browne, with the aid of others, has landed a Democrat in the White House. This much is admitted: Mr. Browne is the Democrat who is doing the most rustling around in Vermont these days; and if rustling counts for anything, why Mr. Browne might rustle himself into the collector's job, if—well, that's another story.

One paragraph from the annual report of the board of health at Springfield, Mass., is of particular interest to Barre people at the present time. The paragraph reads:

"The danger of tuberculosis from infected milk is being taken up by the department and the inspectors are urging producers to buy cows which have been tuberculin tested or guaranteed to be free from tuberculosis. The guarantee adds about 85 to the price per cow, but a good many of the better class of producers are falling in line with the idea by only adding to their herds cows thus guaranteed. This matter will be pushed along and good results will come in a short time."

The same suggestion might well be made by the Barre board of health.

GIFTS TO VERMONT TOWNS.

In Wallace Robinson of Boston, the town of Reading finds a friend who is willing to lift off the town the load of building a new town hall. Mr. Robinson's interest and his loyalty are to be commended; and it is hoped that the ambition to do for itself will not be stripped from the town which accepts his generous contribution. The only drawback to the acceptance of such gifts is that it may develop among the people of the community a feeling that they can depend on some kind friends; it robs them of a certain independence. So it is up to Reading to combat any such tendency as they to-morrow accept Mr. Robinson's gift. We speak of this in a general way, not being acquainted with the spirit of the people of that old and respected community; therefore, we trust that no particular offense will be taken if these lines come to the notice of any of Reading's residents.

BARRE'S QUIET PROGRESS.

The city of Barre has been making quiet progress during the past year, and it is in a position to advance even more rapidly during the year to come. Let calamity howlers howl, we have here a city which is going through that solidifying process that follows very rapid growth. That is why the more visible evidences of development are not noted more conspicuously at the present time; but that does not mean lack of progress, you may be assured. Barre is "growing out," reducing the evidences of sharp angles in its physical aspects and adding to its attractiveness. Residents who look upon the conditions from day to day and week to week may not see the evidences of a municipality coming to maturity, but others who make occasional visits are prompt to note the changes for better in the city. We have in mind a great many features which show steady advancement and fewer than usual that are disquieting to a well-wisher of the city. The balance is much in favor of progress.

New Facts About Eczema.

For years eczema was thought to be incurable, and it is so considered to-day by many people. But since the compounding of Cadum, eczema is now a curable disease. Cadum has proved a blessing to many who have suffered for years from distressing, stubborn and disfiguring skin diseases. It is soothing and healing to an inflamed, irritated or diseased skin. It stops the itching at once, and begins healing with the first application. It is antiseptic, and when applied to an open sore or wound prevents infection from disease germs. Cadum quickly acts upon eczema, pimples, sores, blotches, ulcers, eruptions, rashes, rough skin, chaffings, itching piles, etc. At all druggists, 10c and 25c.

PROGRESS IN MOST LINES.

vanee Barre granite in the markets, where they at the present time cannot compete.

An sorry to say at the present time we have not the guarantee of the erection of a hotel for our city or the solidification of a monument as would have been expected, but still believe that both projects will and can be accomplished. So much has been said in regard to the need of the one and the advantage it may bring to our business men, on the other, apart from the fact that it is the duty of every citizen to see that it should be done, that we will forbear from repeating same.

The idea of substituting the present bridge on South Main street by a bridge built of Barre granite was suggested by our local press, or suggestion was made through that press. We believe it would be a good one but, of course, could never be taken in hand by your council, but might be arranged whereby our city council would allow a certain amount for the erection of a bridge while it might be possible for some of that group lying on the hill, otherwise Graniteville, to be transported in this direction. The manufacturers at this end might arrange some means whereby that group might be put into shape for the city to erect. Of course this is only an idea but the city will have to put a new bridge there at no far distant date and may begin to calculate on same.

River Change.

The accomplishment of the changing bed of Steven's branch has apparently met with unanimous approval from all parties. The total cost of work being considerable under what had been estimated for assessments, therefore the abutments will receive part of assessments back. The cost to the city will no doubt be approved by the citizens in regard to improved conditions around the whole section, also the improved grade and the possibility of a sidewalk along that street through the removal of the old tire station building, which in itself means considerable for the public, living or having occasion to travel over that part of street. It has always been impossible to make sidewalk in that direction.

The improvement at the back of the blocks on Main street from Prospect street are not only the means of giving our business men the opportunity for better display of their merchandise but also the guarantee of less danger from flooding and better fire and police protection as the fire and police department can now work from both sides of the blocks, that means the equivalent of added fire department equipment also better police protection. The accommodation in regard to traffic for the public taking considerable of some to the rear of the blocks will be benefited. The alterations made at the back of the blocks will add more to the grand list of our city and if everything is figured out it will be shown that this is the best business venture that the City of Barre has adopted since incorporation.

Streets.

While our streets are not yet in the condition that they should be for the public good and convenience, they are being put in better shape every year, and at the present are in fairly good condition for so small a community. Considerable money had to be expended on repairs of streets, some of same at the request of the residents in that locality; more money was required to put streets in shape by the washers that occurred this year. Such expense will always be an uncertainty especially where no permanent work has been done. Some permanent work was done at upper Washington street, 11,825 lineal feet being macadamized, said being paid partly by the city and partly by the state money; 2,758 square yards of paving block was laid on our Main street, also 327 square yards of paving laid at the intersection of Washington and Main and Elm streets, besides considerable relaying of old paving caused by the installation of the new drinking fountain. The improvement at this point has been commented on favorably and is certainly a great improvement to that corner and will be the means of averting accidents which might have occurred by congestion of traffic at that point.

More money has been spent on the streets this year than last; $7,149.47 more on permanent streets considerable of that, some if not all will be paid back by abutment's share of assessment. $1,854.18 more on streets of which the most was caused by washers, which no council or street department have any control over. $982.05 more has been paid on sewers but there has been laid 1,232 feet more of sewers this year than last. I believe that this spending of money is advisable on sewers as it not only adds to the convenience of the parties that may be connected, but to the welfare of the community. Less money has been expended on surface sewers through the fact that the work of the new permanent street work had already been connected with to surface sewers. The work done by the street department for the amount of money expended, we are sure must meet with the approval of every one.

We believe that during 1912, considerable of the street appropriation should be expended on sidewalks. Our streets while not perfect can be kept in good shape, by a little overhauling and a little more attention paid to the cleaning of refuse from same until such time as we have better sidewalks. Take for instance our main street, the sidewalks are in very bad shape and should all be renewed and proper level put to same. In bad weather some places are impassable and foot travellers have to go on the street. There is nothing more encouraging to residents of our city or visitors to same than the comfort of walking on a good sidewalk. Other portions of our city outside of business territory should have better attention in regard to sidewalks, thereby safeguarding the health of the public and increasing the value of the property. Am sure if our next street department take up the consideration of some means of keeping our streets in a cleaner manner it would not only be advantageous to the public in cleanliness but perhaps revenue to the city. It will be noted by the street superintendent's report considerable money is expended on cleaning streets but there being no system attached to same, no one knows the work done, therefore we believe that some system of collecting rubbish from stores, blocks or dwelling houses should be arranged and if possible have it so that each party would only have to pay a trifle, while the amounts collected from same might not only pay the expense but be a revenue to the city and therefore help your street department in cleanliness.

Water.

The condition of our water system has been very satisfactory during the past year even through that hard dry spell in the midst of hot weather, no anxiety was felt by the inhabitants of our city while all surrounding districts every means was being devised to save not only water used for industrial purposes, but even for domestic purposes. While we, the citizens of Barre, were enjoying the pure, healthy and sanitary supply from our new reservoir, taking supply from sources free of contamination of any kind even in the driest and hottest of weather, that in itself is enough to be proud of but when we take into consideration the fact that all our working plants employing thousands of men have never had to close their places of business for lack of water while every other surrounding district were deriving means to keep the domestic supply in shape in a small way. We must certainly feel that we have something in Barre water department that we ought to protect as it will be the means not only of helping us out in water supply but if properly attended to will ultimately help us out in a lower tax rate which will help every one in our city. At the present time there is very few people paying so small a rate on water in the United States and there is surely none getting better nor more sanitary supply for the money than in Barre.

I believe that the recommendations of the superintendent in regard to installation of meters in all manufacturing plants is the only one properly to give effect to the entrance of water into the city. It would not be necessary to charge the regular domestic rate but would be possible to substitute rate for meters for manufacturing purposes, of the now established rate and in time of scarcity of water, every one would pay for what they actually use, where as it is well known that in some plants at the present time care is taken with the water, while in others it is abused and allowed to run night and day, which condition is not fair to the other manufacturers that may try to conserve the waste.

I believe this department has been conducted in a very able manner during the year especially when the change had to be made in our cement system through the lowering of grade on the town of Barre roads, is considered, 576 feet of old cement pipe has been removed and replaced with cast iron pipe cost of which is chargeable to this department.

Fire Department.

This department has again shown its efficiency and satisfaction to the public of Barre. While they have responded to 59 alarms during this year, the loss through fire has been very small. The net cost of maintaining the department is less than previous years and under the appropriation, although they have not done so much work for the street department as they have for the fire department, which speaks well for the management of same. The council has tried to arrange a system of more time off for the men, also an increase in pay for longer periods of service which it is to be hoped will still further add to the efficiency and good work of the combined forces. We believe that red lights should be placed on all alarm boxes and kept burning from sunrise to sunset, it is necessary to have these boxes advertised and painted red in daylight, so it is not more necessary that some mark of attention should be drawn to them in the hours of darkness when the chances for fire are more increased than at any other time.

Sooner or later it will have to be decided whether a new fire station and added equipment be installed at North Barre or a new station be installed at headquarters would be the best. We believe that the installation of an auto truck of good and capable make would be of the best service to the city at the present time as the outfit would practically cover the extra expenditure. The fire department could hire one pair of horses to the street department every day in the week, thereby having increased equipment at about the same cost of maintenance, whereas if a building is erected at North Barre, we have the cost of building also the pay of at least two permanent men and perhaps new apparatus. Whatever can be done to help this department to a still better stage of efficiency should be done with due consideration not only to the smaller cost to the city, but what would be most advantageous to the public and to the credit of Barre. We are satisfied that the present force of men will do everything in their power with hose reel, chemicals or auto truck machine.

Poor Department.

This department according to its name is a poor one for the city, and by some accounts from those who have occasion to call on it is a very poor one. However, we believe that it has been conducted with the intention of giving all relief that is possible for the city. We are satisfied that the members of that department have spent more time and energy to try and figure what might be best for all parties than has previously been done. It has cost about $900.00 more for that department this year than in previous years, taking a total of almost $8,000.00 for the year. If it was not for the many fraternal and other bodies in our city, which have a large number of it, it would cost our city twice as much; therefore, it behooves us all to encourage fraternalism and unionism in the city of Barre as each of these orders are protecting their members to the best of their ability and are helping in no mean way to keep the tax rate at a low minimum.

Schools.

The schools of our city have been kept to their usual high standard and perhaps have eclipsed same as we now are having an evening drawing school attached; which apparently is giving good satisfaction not only to pupils but to our school commissioners and their hope is to extend the convenience of the subject as is very often the case. We are sorry the solution for proper entrance to the latest addition to our schools, namely, Lincoln school, has not been accomplished. This matter shows one of the drawbacks of the commissioners having to depend on other bodies for their needs. If the commissioners had the authority to decide on this matter alone we know that the matter would have been settled sometime ago. However, we hope that these committees now having the matter in hand will be able to devise some means whereby it can be closed up. These committees being school commissioners, property committee of the city council, committee from Congregational church, the holders of the deed for said piece of land.

Police Department.

This department is one of the most necessary departments in civic affairs. If everyone would do as they should do, or were told to do, we would not need police; however, we may congratulate ourselves in the modest outfit of this department while apparently everyone has been simply pruned and no one abused. This department has been worked under the expenses of the previous year although considerable sickness has been amongst our officers. The chief being off duty for thirteen weeks, and at the present time the well known officer Gamble being off duty which has reduced our force considerably during the year and has been the occasion of having the police committee substitute special officers for part of the time. We have now added an extra patrolman which has been called for by the public for sometime past. Are sure the addition will not only be the means of prompt answers to calls but will be a relief to the members of the force who have many times to work over hours. Hope the continued support and co-operation of the public, police force and city council will prevail.

Cemeteries.

The last resting place of every citizen of Barre, his family and perhaps near relations should have special attention given to it and all assistance possible for improvements on the grounds should be accorded our commissioners. The present year the commissioners have made great improvement not only in regard to the entrance but throughout the grounds and we have no doubt it encouraged in the work that they have set before them, we will have something to be proud of in the near future, and will not be ashamed to know that we will ultimately have to rest there. For expenditure on same see commissioners' report.

Finance.

Sound finances are one of the basic principles of stable government and we feel that the close of the year 1911 certainly has resulted in a good healthy condition. The progressive ideas held by our citizens regarding improvements and the insistence with which they press the same makes it more and more of a problem each year to keep abreast with the times on our present tax rate and still keep our indebtedness within a reasonable limit; but until such time as we can get a material increase in our grand list, we will always have to contend with the question of a high tax rate.

A reference to the report of the assessors will show that the amount of deductions for debts owing made on last year's grand list amounted to $847,662 more than the deductions of the previous year, an amount which seems to us excessive. If this property could have been taxed at last year's rate it would have produced a sum equal to what has been paid in taxes by a tax of 28 1/2 cents on last year's grand list or in other words, if this amount of property had been taxed last year, a tax rate of $2.06 1/2 would have produced the same amount of revenue as was produced from the tax of $2.35.

It is to be hoped that the next legislature will pass a law that will in some way regulate in a more satisfactory manner the taxation of personal property.

By referring to the report of the finance committee it will be seen that satisfactory progress has been made in the past year, the issue of $15,000 four per cent. refunding bonds which matured last May was retired, and our sinking fund still shows an increase of almost $2,000 over the preceding year; and the full year's business shows a net gain to the city of $8,707.47.

There is one branch of our finances that I do not consider to be in as good condition as they ought to be, I refer to the trust funds left with the city for the care of cemetery lots. Not but what the city has complied in every respect with the law regarding the matter; the law only holds the city responsible for the interest of the funds and not for the principal; but these funds are accumulating to quite a large sum, the amount at present being $8,840.00. It is our duty to pay four per cent. interest annually; as the funds to increase the amount to pay out annually will increase and will soon become a yearly burden.

We believe that these funds should be preserved intact and invested instead of going into the city treasury and being expended for general city purposes, as has been done in the past. Although under the law the city is not liable for the principal of these funds, it is liable for the annual interest; and without the funds to earn the interest, the same becomes a burden.

Referring to the water department finances, we believe now that the Orange reservoir has been completed, there will be a large yearly surplus of earnings over expenditures in this department and that said surplus should be used to reduce the bonds issued on account of our water system.

We do not believe that it will be good financing on the part of the city to use this surplus for general city purposes, as long as we have so many water bonds to meet; at the present time there is $235,000 water bonds outstanding, and the only provision made to meet the same is $5,000 yearly; at this rate it would take 47 years to retire these bonds, which we believe is too long a period; a certain portion at least of the surplus income should be set aside each year for the purpose of meeting a portion of these bonds when they mature, and we hope that this matter will receive serious consideration in the near future.

It will be noted that provision has been made for all night lighting to commence October 1912. We believe that if satisfactory arrangements can be made, that we should have same now and would recommend that the lighting committee be instructed to find out the best possible proposition regarding the same. As in our opinion we should be in the position to demand all night lighting for the public good and convenience, the same would add to the efficiency of the police and fire departments. Would take this opportunity of commending the work of the different departments and their different heads, city engineer, fire chief, water and street superintendents, and chief of police for their prompt and continued attention to their work and the able way they have handled the same.

To the members of the city council I would say that I appreciate the way that they have conducted their business; while we may not have always agreed on a subject, we have always been in a position that our business has been conducted without friction.

And would extend my thanks to them for their assistance in our work also the city clerk for his able and valuable assistance in our meetings.

Respectfully yours,

James Mutch, Mayor.

Other Reports Presented.

Supplementing the water superintendent's report, the water committee reported that the Orange and Baileys reservoirs are in good shape, and they recommended that the old Orange reservoir ought to be cleaned out and kept for an emergency supply as it is capable of holding 5,000,000 gallons of water. They warned users of the city water against waste, although there is no fear of a shortage at present. They thought the installation of meters through the city would decrease the waste. The report was signed by Aldermen Willey, Ward and McLeod.

The library committee, Aldermen Willey, Rossi and McLeod, reported that the city had purchased 389 books for the public library and now had a total of 2,932 volumes, with a cash balance of $848.08. During the year 250 books have been re-bound.

Messrs. J. W. Gordon, R. S. Currier and F. G. Howland, trustees of the French Barre library, reported a total of 2,270 volumes and they have a cash balance of $327.26.

Aldermen Brown, Thurston and Rossi of the health committee declared in their annual report that the city had had no epidemic during the year; there has been considerable extension of the sewer, which has made the outbreak of disease less likely, but there is still a chance for further extension. The breeding places for flies, the carriers of disease, ought to be wiped out, the committee thought. They recommended also a system of garbage collection.

Desiring to increase the efficiency of the police department in every way possible, the police committee, Aldermen Willey, Brown and Rossi, reported they had installed the civil service method of appointment to the police force, and they thought it had been promotive of good for the service. They also informed the people about certain changes in the physical equipment of the police station.

The city's property was reported to be in good shape as a rule, by the property committee, Aldermen Willey, Ward and McLeod. The city hall is in good repair; the scenery in the opera house building has been made more attractive by a granite tablet at the entrance and by cleaning some of the granite trimmings. No repairs have been made on the old town hall, and the exterior needs it.

The old fire station on Prospect street has been disposed of to E. L. Clark. A few repairs have been made to the buildings on the city farm; also to the band stand. The Mertz house has been repaired and both tenements are now occupied. All the property has been insured over.

Voted to Accept An Old Street.

Aside from the acceptance of these reports, one other important action was taken in the vote to accept a deed from Mrs. Calista Holster for the westerly end of West street from Main street to the railroad track, provided Mrs. Holster can give a satisfactory title. This matter has been hanging fire for some time.

The lighting committee reported in favor of 32-candle power lights on Hall street and Upland avenue, and the report was accepted and the lights ordered installed. Simonds & Marks applied for right to run a skating rink on the Trow & Holden pond, also for appointment as special policemen there. They were informed the council has no right to grant a license for a private venture on public property, and their request to be appointed special policemen was declared to be a matter to come before the police committee.

O. G. Robinson complained that the overseer of the poor had ignored his request to help pay the rent and had only supplied provisions for his family in their predicament, his wife having fallen on the street and broken her wrist and he himself having just recovered from illness. He was referred to the charity committee.

The usual weekly warrants were drawn and ordered paid, and in addition was one warrant to pay Dr. Joe W. Jackson $25, for services as health officer for December. It was reported later in the meeting that Health Officer Jackson had intimated his intention to submit a report of the deaths in the city for the past year. The closing piece of business was the acceptance of the bond of Patrolman McLeod, it being for $500, signed by D. W. McDonald and John Nicholson.

OPPOSES AUTO FIRE TRUCK.

A Citizen Advances Three Reasons Against Proposed Purchase.

Barre, Vt., Jan. 30, 1912.

Editor of the Barre Daily Times,
Dear Sir: Through your columns I wish to express my opinion as a taxpayer relative to the purchase of an auto fire truck for the city of Barre.

I am opposed to the purchase of one at this time for the following reasons:
First. Auto fire trucks are in the experimental stage of development. Any well-informed automobile man can tell you that radical changes are being made in the manufacture of the trucks that are on the market to-day, and they will tell you that more changes will be made for a few years to come, until a standard machine is developed. The city of Barre is not in a position to do the experimenting.

Second. The city of Barre does not need an auto fire truck. Our present fire department, with its excellent equipment, affords ample fire protection for our city. Our fire records since its installation prove this statement. No city in New England of the size of Barre has better fire protection. If our fire chief will only direct all his efforts to maintaining the present efficiency of the department, we need fear but very little in regard to fires.

Third. The city ought not to purchase a truck now from a financial point of view. A man would be considered very unwise who would mortgage his house to buy an automobile, and yet that is what a majority of our city fathers have practically voted to do. They are really taking money from the sinking fund tax, and lowering the appropriations for permanent work in other departments in order to purchase this truck. They point to a $225 tax and tell us that we can afford a fire truck and that they have made provision for it in the estimated expenditures for the coming year, and in the face of all this have lowered our tax rate five cents. This looks good, but it is not true. Our tax rate for this year is really higher than it was last year. We are paying less but are getting considerably less for our money. They have lowered the sinking fund tax by ten cents and have decreased the appropriations for permanent work in other departments by eight cents, a total of eighteen cents; and they have lowered our taxes five cents, which makes a net increase of thirteen cents in our tax, when we take into consideration what we are getting for our money.

I would suggest to the city council that before they purchase a fire truck they give an opportunity for the citizens of Barre to vote upon this question at a city meeting. I am
Respectfully yours,
A Citizen.

Notice.

Those having water from the McFarland & Boyce system must be more careful about wasting so much water as it inconveniences those on the top floors. If they are not more careful, they will not have any to waste.

BARRE DRUG COMPANY'S FINAL STATEMENT FOR JANUARY.

During the past six months, ending January, 1912, it has been our pleasure to conduct a drug store that has been an advantage to its patrons to say the least. The above-named company, however, make no claim that they have paid over any dividends to its stockholders, but will say that the business is all we could expect and has been better than we anticipated. The outlook is most promising and with this prospect our stock will be put forth to furnish our patrons with the goods they want in our line and at prices that are attractive to the patron of good judgment. However, we are ready for all comers as well now as later. Our stock is complete and our service is agreeable and alert to the business. (You can judge for yourself.) Doors open early and close late.
